GENESIS 6

GEN 6: 1a

And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth...

The time of Noah was the time of a population explosion.

You have to have above zero population or the earth is going to be extinct of man. The population growth factor has been about 1.5, from the time of Noah up to the present time.

Prior to the flood, if we assume that the average generation was 94 years; the average family size was 8 children; the average age was 500 years old; (though those that are listed here in Genesis average out at 912) at that rate, at the time of Noah's flood, there were 137 billion people living on the earth.

There are some very interesting discoveries, especially, in the area of the Andes and of Lake Titicaca in Peru, which is the highest large body of water in the world.

There is evidence in these high Andean peaks that at one time, on the shores of Lake Titicaca, that there was a huge metropolis. The mountains around this lake are terraced for farming high above where you can farm today.

Above the tree level, there are still terraces that were once farms. They go up into the glacial ice and even under it, which leads to the conclusion, by those studying the geological structures, that once, and not too long ago, the Andean Mountains and Lake Titicaca were once at sea level.

They were thrust upward in a gigantic earth movement. It is interesting that they date the time of this upheaval as being some 5,000 years ago.

Now, if indeed, the population of the earth had expanded; men began to multiply on the face of the earth. Men had expanded over the whole surface of the earth by that time and surely there is evidence that men lived before the flood age, in great numbers, down in South America.

It is also possible that the continental shift took place sometime later.

Originally the earth was all one land mass so that these areas and the things that puzzle us, from a geological standpoint, have resulted from the flood.

We do have evidence of vast civilizations of people, who lived on a very high level of civilization, existing in varied parts of the world. In the book "Earths In Upheaval," there is a short segment on the mysteries that surround Lake Titicaca and the large population that once existed there in the Peruvian Andes.

GEN 6: 1-2

GENESIS 6

And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them, that the sons of God (Bnei Elohim) (

- It appears that the sons of God might be a reference to fallen angels because the term “sons of God,” are used of angels in the Old Testament
 - Job 1:6 also says, now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them.
 - More in Job 2:1, 38:7, etc
 - Now people have problems with this, how angels would appear as humans, well that happened later in Genesis 18 the 2 angles & 3rd being the LORD aka Jesus. Same in Sodom how the people lusted over them) saw the daughters of men that they were fair; and they took them wives (Marriage, in itself, is not of course, condemned by God. He was the One who instituted it in the beginning and performed the first wedding (Genesis 2:18-25).

“Hebrews 13:4 says Marriage is honourable in all and the bed undefiled”. The problem rather was with the ones who married and with that which attracted them to one another.) of all which they chose.

We are dealing now with abnormal sex.

The fallen angels could be the ones that Peter refers to as those reserved in the chains of Tarterus.

This is the only place Tarterus is mentioned in the Bible and in the classical Greek it says that Tarterus is below Hades which is below the earth.

Jude speaks of the angels that kept not their first estate, but are being reserved in chains of darkness awaiting the Day of Judgment.

The problem that is usually brought up at this point is when the Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection, asked Jesus the following question about the woman who had married seven brothers and had no children.

“Whose wife would she be in the resurrection?”

“And Jesus answering said unto them, the children of this world marry, and are given in marriage; but they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage; neither can they die anymore; for they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.” (Luke 20:34-36).

Jesus didn't say the angels didn't have a capacity for sex. Those angels that appeared in the Old Testament did appear as men when they made an appearance in a human form.

GENESIS 6

Remember when they came to the city of Sodom. The men of Sodom came and began to beat down Lot's door that they might know these men. They wanted to abuse them sexually, thinking that they were mortal men.

Now, some people have suggested that "the sons of God is a reference to the godly line of Seth marrying the ungodly line of Cain"

I think that is a forced interpretation and does not really fit.

We may not understand it completely, but it appears that there was a cohabiting between fallen angels and women and the product, of course, was giants from this genetic engineering.

Early in the commentary, I mentioned a cast of a footprint from the Piluxi River. This footprint would indicate a man some eight foot tall, which could be the by-product of what we are reading here in Genesis.

The footprint was fossilized alongside of dinosaur prints there in the Piluxi River and it could be that both of them perished in the flood. Another conjecture is that the dinosaurs were too big to fit in the ark and they became extinct.

There is a very interesting case history from the Philippines of a young Filipino girl by the name of Teresa.

She would go into seizures in which she would scream and afterwards there would be bite marks on her body. You might surmise that she was biting herself during the seizure; however, there were bite marks on the back of her neck and back, where it would have been impossible for her to bite herself.

She was finally placed in prison under protective custody and some of the finest psychologists in the Philippines were brought to examine her.

They were unable to do anything to stop the seizures; so, finally two missionaries were called to exorcise the demon from this girl. The account has been written up in a book called "Bitten By Demons."

After Teresa was set free from these demons, she testified that they had sexually molested her and would attack her whenever any men would approach her.

An extremely bizarre story and yet, well documented and attested to.

She spoke of sexual molestation by these demons and such molestation cases from demons are quite common from the records of missionaries from China and other areas where the Gospel of Jesus Christ has not had a strong impact.

Here at the time of Noah was tremendous satanic activity: Satanic worship and the opening up of people to satanic possession.

To me it is shocking and alarming that people, today, have such a tremendous interest in Satanism.

GENESIS 6

Satanic worship centers are springing up all over the world and Witches Covens are quite common. It is really no wonder, because children in grade school have access, through the school libraries, to books on Satanism, Witchcraft, and how to get started dabbling in the occult.

Look what the kids are being fed on television every Saturday morning. As you are relieved that they aren't under your feet, they are watching Zartan and other occultic creatures.

They're seeing monsters that have been genetically engineered.

Talk about violence, these cartoons are full of it. We are glutting the children's minds with these things. Do you ever wonder what it's going to produce in the next generation? What will be the fruit?

As the prophet said,

"For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind..." (Hosea 8:7a).

GEN 6: 3

And the LORD said, my spirit (

- The Holy Spirit has evidently been very active on the earth condemning sinful behavior and in this sense strove with man.
- For years he was convicted of sin, opposing lust, mixed marriages, ungodliness and violence but His voice was being ignored before the flood wanting to bring people to righteousness and salvation mostly through the preaching of Enoch and Noah.
- These are called preachers of righteousness in the Bible.)

shall not always strive (

- This is the first recorded speech of God since Genesis 5:2 when the text says He called them Adam after creating them male and female.
- Chapter five focused on individuals. Now God speaks to humankind as a whole.
- What did the Lord mean that His Spirit will not strive with humanity forever?
 - God is saying that the Holy Spirit will not always strive with humanity.
 - It shows how angry God was over the sin, yet it also demonstrates His great mercy in that He was still willing to allow another 120 years for anyone to repent.

GENESIS 6

- 1 Peter 3:20 - Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.
- Basically the LORD's patience was worn out with the people on the earth.
- This is much the same idea that we find in the prophetic books where the LORD expressed His impatience with the disobedient nation Israel.
- Translation Problem
- The problem with understanding the passage this way is centred around the translation of the Hebrew verb doon. This word, usually translated strive is found nowhere else in Scripture and its meaning is uncertain.
- The Septuagint, the Syriac Peshitta, and the Latin Vulgate translate this word to dwell in. This would make the spirit refer to the life principle that man received at his creation rather than the Holy Spirit of God.
- Therefore the passage would mean that God would destroy His creation to whom He gave life.
- Shield
- Others translate this verb as shield. This would make God's statement to read that the Holy Spirit would not always shield man from judgment. Even though the judgment would be swift there would be a 120 year reprieve where Noah preached of the coming cataclysm.
- He Also Is Flesh
- This seems to refer to our sinful nature-our actions have become similar to that of animals.
- Mortals cannot abide in their pomp; they are like the animals that perish honor (Psalm 49:12).
- Though created in God's image, humanity became like the animals.
- The emphasis in the passage is that God lost His patience with sinful humanity.
- The 120 years is a reference to the number of years between Noah's preaching and the Flood.)

with man, for that he also is flesh; yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years.

God probably is not putting a limit on age in this passage, but rather declaring in a hundred and twenty years he will bring his judgment and wipe out the earth unless there is repentance (change).

GENESIS 6

The LORD is saying that man's days are numbered.

He has a hundred and twenty years from this time till judgment unless he changes.

GEN 6: 4

There were giants (Hebrew translated as Nephilim. Luther translated it as tyrants) in the earth in those days and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown. (

- It is interesting that these "tyrants" were regarded as heroes.
 - Sometimes in our wicked world the hard man and the bully can be very much admired.
 - The one who, by ruthless and selfish pushing and shoving, gets to the top is seen by some as an object of admiration and an example to be followed.
 - Meekness and the turning of the other cheek are generally ridiculed in our evil world. To some, it's a sign of weakness)

GEN 6: 5

And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great (

- The "salt of the earth" had lost its saltiness and was no longer able to act as a preservative.
 - The candle was about to go out) in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

Man's mind had become so completely polluted that in his imagination there was only evil.

The Bible tells us in Galatians,

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." (Gal.6:7-8).

May God help us, because every place you go there are things which sow to your flesh. The billboards, tabloids, newspapers and other advertisements are all designed to attract the attention of the flesh.

GENESIS 6

You can rent videos or subscribe for the various channels, such as: Netflix; whereby, you can bring all kind of pornography into your home which will be planted into your mind and help the imaginations of your mind to be continually evil.

That was the condition that existed when God told man his Spirit would not always strive with man.

God said, it's enough! I've had it!

GEN 6: 6-7

And it repented the LORD (

- Number 23:19 says God is not a man, that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?
 - God being omission he knew everything
 - It's extremely difficult to talk about God in human terminologies because we are limited.
 - Many actions of God are not easy to explain except in the language we understand and though don't necessarily mean or represent that action of God
 - His ways are above my ways and understanding
 - Malachi 3:6 says for I am the Lord, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.)

that He had made man on the earth, and it grieved Him at His heart, and the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

GEN 6: 8

But Noah (translated as rest or comfort) found grace (The first time it's mentioned in the scripture) in the eyes of the LORD.

In the midst of a wicked and perverse generation, there was one man who stood out. It was Noah who found grace in the eyes of the LORD and by faith he walked with God

Interesting Facts about Noah

GENESIS 6

1. Noah is the tenth generation descendant of Adam; Noah's grandfather was Methuselah, who is the oldest man recorded in the Bible (Genesis 5:27). He lived to be 969 years old. It's believed that Methuselah died in the flood.
2. Noah himself was 500 years old when he had his sons Japheth, Shem, and Ham; At the time of the flood, Noah was 600 years old (Genesis 7:6).
3. Upon stepping on dry land after the flood, Noah first built an altar to God (Genesis 8:20); Noah planted the first vineyard after the flood, and he is the first drunk recorded in the Bible (Genesis 9:20-21).
4. When Noah's youngest son Ham found his father drunk and naked in his tent, he went and told his brothers, instead of covering him. For this transgression, Noah cursed Ham's son Canaan to be the lowliest of servants to his brethren (Genesis 9:22-26); After the flood, Noah lived another 350 years, dying at the age of 950 years.

GEN 6: 9a

These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations...

As the whole earth was becoming corrupt with the mixture of genetic engineering, here in Noah's generations, there was a pure strain.

GEN 6: 9b-11

...and Noah walked with God, (Reminds of my one of my favourite scriptures in 2 Chronicles 16:9 - For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to shew himself strong in the behalf of them whose heart is perfect toward him.) and Noah begat three sons, Shem, (

- He was probably the eldest of Noah's sons.
- His descendants are called Semites and one of his early descendants was Heber (Eber) for whom the Hebrews are named.
- The Israelite nation sprang from him (Genesis 11:10-26; 1 Chronicles 1:24-27).
- Semites or Semitic people is a term for descendants of Shem (Sem) who speak (or spoke) the Semitic languages, such as Hebrew, Aramaic (mostly Syrians), Arabic, Amharic, Tigrinya, Tigre, and Maltese.
- These languages share some words and roots.
- Altogether, Semitic languages are spoken by about 330 million people today.)

GENESIS 6

Ham, (

- Ham is the youngest known son of Noah (Genesis 5:32; compare Gen. 9:22; 9:24).
 - His descendants are called Hamites or Hamitic.
 - In the early times of the post-Flood world, the people groups that developed from the children of Ham were the most energetic of all the descendants of Noah.
 - One of the most important facts recorded in Genesis 10 is the foundation of the earliest monarchy in Babylonia by Nimrod the grandson of Ham.
 - The sons of Ham were Cush (They became the Ethiopians) and Mizraim (who became Egyptians) and Put (These became the Lybians & Mauritians) and Canaan. (Canaanites & Phoenicians) —Gen. 10:6 NASB
 - Now Cush became the father of Nimrod; he became a mighty one on the earth. — Gen. 10:8
 - The beginning of his kingdom was Babel and Erech and Accad and Calneh, in the land of Shinar. —Gen. 10:10 NASB
 - The early Babylonian empire was thus Hamitic, and a cognate race with the early inhabitants of Arabia and of Ethiopia.
 - This is a poetic name for Egypt and is used in Psalm 105:23; 105:27; 106:22.
 - We also find a place called Ham in Genesis 14 - “In the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer and the kings that were with him, came and defeated the Rephaim in Ashteroth-karnaim and the Zuzim in Ham and the Emim in Shaveh-kiriathaim,” — Genesis 14:5 NASB) - It is east of the Jordan River between Ashteroth-karnaim and Shaveh-kiriathaim.

and Japheth. (

- He was the progenitor of many tribes inhabiting the east of Europe (German, Russia, Greeks) and the north of Asia (Genesis 10:2-5)

- Gomer

- Gomerites:

- Galatians (Anatolian Galatia)
 - Cappadocians
 - Cimmerians/Gimmerai (southern Russia)

The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

These conditions that were a result of marriage and divorce: the breakdown of the family unit and the social chaos of violence and corruption that filled the earth at this time.

GEN 6: 12-14

And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh (including the animals, could be a reference to cross breeding, man having sex relations with animals, animals used for sacrifices) had corrupted his way upon the earth, and God said unto Noah, the end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth. Make thee an ark of gopher wood; rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch (The word translated pitch is “kopher.” It is the same word translated later as atonement. As the blood of the lamb will make a “Kofu” or covering for the sins, so the ark was to be covered inside and out with this “Kopher.”) it within and without with pitch.

Why did God only spare Noah and his family during the great flood? Did other innocent people perish?

A lot of atheists will use this argument to slander God and call Him a murderer, but that is because most people do not understand the cause and purpose of the flood of Noah's time.

Both Christians and atheists alike could learn a great deal if they can get this subject straightened out in their thinking.

There were no “innocent people” left.

Let me explain:

The entire race of humanity had been corrupted, or polluted, by the Nephilim.

All the earth had been corrupted, or destroyed before God, and the only thing left for God to do was to destroy it as it had been destroyed (Gen. 6:11–13, 17 - The same Hebrew word is used ‘shachath’ - corrupt, ruined, destroyed, spoiled).

The entire human race - with the exception of the man Noah and his family - had been contaminated and adulterated by the “sons of God” in Gen. 6:2.

These “sons of God” were angels that “left their proper domain” (Jude 6).

GENESIS 6

The nature of their sin is said to be in like manner with the later sins of Sodom and Gomorrah (Jude 7), and the time period of their fall is said to be “in the days of Noah” (1 Pet. 3:20, 2 Pet. 2:4–6).

Angels are called “sons of God” in Job 1:6, 2:1, 38:7, Ps. 29:1, 89:6, Dan. 3:25, and here in Gen. 6.

Their wickedness was great, and they co-habitated with the daughters of men, and their offspring was called the Nephilim, translated “giants”.

These Nephilim (which means ‘fallen ones’) were evidently great in size, strength, intelligence, and capability.

In Gen. 6:9 it says, “These are the generations of Noah: Noah was a just man and perfect in his generations, and Noah walked with God”.

Noah, being “perfect” in his generations, does not mean that Noah was especially moral, but that he was actually “spotless” or “unblemished” in his bloodline.

The Hebrew word used for “perfect” here is ‘tamim’, and is the word used for bodily and physical perfection, not moral.

Hence, it is the common Hebrew word used for animals of sacrificial purity multiple times in the Old Testament. See Ex. 12:5, Lev. 1:3, 3:1, 4:23, 4:28, Num. 29:2, 29:6, Ps. 119:1, Ezek. 45:18, to name only a few.

Only Noah and his family had preserved their pure human pedigree from the first man, Adam.

The destruction of these abnormal, superhuman creatures was necessary for the preservation of the human race, and the faithfulness of God’s promise: that it would be through the seed of the woman that would ultimately triumph over Satan (Gen. 3:15).

These Nephilim were not descended from Adam, and thus they were not subject to Adamic death (the ultimate destiny of all humans).

Therefore, they had to be destroyed, as the death that works in all mankind due to growing old was not at work in them.

Gen. 6:4 “There were Nephilim in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became heroes which were of old, men of the name.”

Notice that these Nephilim were in the earth in those days (the days of Noah), and also after that.

Thus we know, that after the flood, there was a second invasion of these fallen angels/superhuman creatures, and we find these again in Num. 13:32–33, where we read, “So they gave out to the sons of Israel a bad report of the land which they had spied out, saying, “The land through which we have gone, in spying it out, is a land that devours its inhabitants; and all the people whom we saw in it are men of great size.

There also we saw the Nephilim (the sons of Anak are part of the Nephilim); and we became like grasshoppers in our own sight, and so we were in their sight.”

These Nephilim were also known as the “nations of Canaan”, and became identified with other names such as the Rephaim and Emim (Gen. 14:5), Anakim (Num. 13:33, Deut. 2:10–11), Zamzummim (Deut. 2:20–21), and others.

It is no coincidence that these were already dwelling in the land of Canaan that God promised to give to Abraham and his seed (Gen. 12:1–6, 13:7).

It was for this reason that God demanded Israel to utterly destroy the nations of Canaan, as He had destroyed the inhabitants of the earth in the days of Noah.

Many races of giant humanoid hybrids inhabited these lands, and they were all descendants of the Nephilim.

Consider the Old Testament stories of the giants called the Anakim, Goliath and other Philistines, and Og, king of Bashan.

Many people criticize the bible in their thinking that God destroyed millions of innocents in the flood of Noah, but that simply isn't the case.

The world of Noah's time was not even a world of humans, and babies had ceased to be born to these hybrid fallen angel/humans that then existed.

It may be for this reason that Noah's sons and their wives had not yet procreated in the natural way, for they were unwilling to create offspring in such a world that is described as destroyed before God, and filled with violence, and where the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually.

It wasn't until after Noah's family stepped out of the ark, that, “God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth.” (Gen. 9:1).

Understanding the heroes which were of old, men of the name - could also be the key to understanding all the great mysteries of the ancient building of giant structures, most of which seem far more advanced than man should have been able to build at that time.

It may also be the explanation of the origins of Greek mythology.

That mythology may not have been the mere invention of human imagination, but rather grew out of legends, traditions, and memories of a mighty race of beings with superhuman capability.

These were supernatural in their origin, and is easy to see their being regarded as Gods and Demi-Gods of the Greeks. I subscribe to this theory myself.

GENESIS 6

We see the machinations of Satan in the story of the flood, and the occupation of the land of Canaan.

When the promise that God made to ultimately destroy Satan was made to the “seed of the woman”, Satan tried to corrupt the very progeny of humanity, the seed of all women!

When Satan later learns that it is going to come through the promise given to Abram and his seed, again Satan mobilizes to destroy Abram and his seed as well by preoccupying the land of Canaan.

This great conflict is a recurring theme throughout the bible, and can be followed over and over, even to the point of Satan confronting the Son of Man Himself in Luke 4 (cast thyself down).

Several examples of Satan’s invasions can be cited, and in all of them God provides a solution, even when almost all hope is lost, such as all the royal seed of David being slaughtered, save the lone babe Joash, hidden for 6 years. (1 Chron.22–23).

God’s decision to start all over again with Noah and his family was for one reason, and that was to save and preserve the entire human race for the One who would ultimately come through the seed of the woman, according to the promise of His word.

GEN 6: 15

And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

A cubit was thought to be eighteen inches or the distance from your elbow to the tip of your finger.

- A cubit is about 18 inches long
 - 450 feet long (1 & half football fields), 150 feet wide, 45 feet tall (3 stories, 15 feet each)
 - Equivalent to 522 train cattle cars
 - Interesting is its 6 times long as wide
- Marco Polo as he wrote in The Travels of Marco Polo, “In the heart of the Armenian mountain range, the mountain’s peak is shaped like a cube (or cup), on which Noah’s ark is said to have rested and thus believed that Noah’s ark came to rest on the ‘mountains of Ararat’ in modern-day Turkey.”
 - 1917: A Russian flier spotted in a particularly long summer around mountains of Ararat

- Syria & Turkish governments being Muslim controlled have not been cooperative due to a key discovery of Ebla tablets proving that Abraham & David did exist since now gives Israel the claim to the land
 - Prof Joseph Crossitch says they discovered in England caves found multiple animal skeletons all mingled together and covered with silt don't show a pray fight or so. But only prove a violent flood.

God has left evidence but man is miss-interpreting the evidence

- Some areas the silt deposits are so thick (hundreds of feet) and that necessitates several thousand feet of water

In the last days the scoffers will come and say all things are same (uniform materialism)

- 2 Peter 3:3-4 – (nailed it) where is the promise of His coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation...Of this they are willingly ignorant.
- John 20:29 - Jesus said blessed are they who see and believe and more blessed are they who believe without seeing.

Now they had the span which was the length from your thumb to your finger; so, you would measure out so many span and so many cubits.

That was a simple and quick way of measurement.

Three hundred cubits would translate into about four hundred and fifty feet or half again as long as a football field. It was to be fifty cubits wide or seventy five feet wide; the height, thirty cubits or forty five feet would be three decks in height and the height within each deck would be about fifteen feet.

As far as volumetric capacity, it was one million, four hundred thousand cubic feet. You could take five hundred and twenty two box cars that haul livestock and fit them in the ark. In a box car they can put one hundred and twenty four sheep, which means that he could have had one hundred and twenty five thousand sheep in that ship; but, he only had seven pair.

The sheep was a clean animal and they had seven pair of each clean animal. Noah didn't have to take the fish into the ark, they could survive the flood and certain birds, that are adapted to the water, could have survived without going into the ark.

Now, Noah didn't have to take all the different kind of dogs and cats but only two of the species.

With one million, four hundred thousand cubic feet of capacity, there would have been sufficient room for two of every major species of animal from the earth today.

GENESIS 6

It is quite possible that the dinosaurs didn't make it and that could account for the extinction of the dinosaurs.

Our minds have been conditioned by the Evolutionary teachings that we've had in our various classes through high school and college as we've studied geology and anthropology and biology, etc.

We have been so mentally conditioned to the Evolutionary Hypothesis that we, somehow, believe that the dinosaurs became extinct some three hundred million years ago.

There was a picture in the paper, recently, where this paleontologist (one who studies past geological periods as known from fossil remains) was examining the skeleton of a little dinosaur and according to the article this dinosaur was the oldest one that had ever been discovered. They say that every time they find a new skeleton.

The dinosaurs were probably not taken on the ark. They did coexist with man as is plainly evident there at the Piluxi River in Texas.

Every day they are uncovering more and more dinosaur and men's footprints side by side, parallel, and in some places the man crossed and left his footprint right in the track of the dinosaur.

Do you know that some archaeologists and palaeontologists are trying to destroy that site on the Piluxi River and that a large portion was destroyed? According to the Evolutionary Hypothesis, man and dinosaur coexisting would be impossible.

Men who are intent on keeping God out of the scene, rationalizing for the existence of man without God, are trying to destroy the clear evidence which destroys completely the hoax and the lie that they have been trying to foster on the gullible public.

Some scientists and evolutionists are very sincere, but they are sincerely deceived. They're beginning with false presuppositions.

Their conclusions are all based upon a certain presuppositional base that evolution is a scientific fact and that the earth is twelve billion years old. So they try to develop the evidence with that presuppositional base and thus they've got things all confused.

In 1797, Lyle, who was the father of the uniformitarianism concept from which the Evolutionary Hypothesis was born, visited the United States and at Niagara Falls saw the gorge that was created as Lake Erie drops over and forms Lake Superior.

He examined the gorge, created by Niagara Falls, and talked to the people who were living near the area. They told him, at that time, that the falls were receding at about four feet per year.

Since that didn't fit with his hypothesis, he went back and told the world that the falls were receding at one foot per year and that the thirty thousand foot gorge took thirty thousand years to form. These facts fit in more with his theories of uniformitarianism.

GENESIS 6

However, since 1797, they have been measuring this gorge and they have found that it does recede at the rate of four and one-half feet per year and that the inhabitants of the area were more correct than Lyle.

At the earlier recession of the glacial ice, that once formed the waters of the lake, the floor water was probably greater; so, it is safe to assume that the erosion rate in earlier years was greater than it is today because of the greater volume of water pouring over it.

At four and one-half feet per year, it makes the creation of the Niagara Falls something like five or six thousand years ago.

This is quite interesting because now we're coming close to the time of the flood.

Again, this is all brought out in the book "Earths In Upheaval." The author doesn't really believe in the Bible but he thinks it has a very accurate accounting of events. He gives more solid scientific proof of a "young earth" since the last ice age than anything else I've ever read.

So the flood can easily account for the coal deposits, the mammoth frozen in the Siberian Tundra, with the various upheavals and the lack of a real pattern in a geological column.

GEN 6: 16

A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

The window was probably all the way around the top. With all those animals they would need the ventilation.

GEN 6: 17-20

And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth shall die. But with thee will I establish my covenant; (First mention of the word covenant) and thou shalt come into the ark, (

- The ark is a symbol of salvation
 - The ark was invented by God and not man. Noah didn't come up with the idea ONLY God did.
 - The ark was the ONLY way to be saved from the judgement whether you believe it or not even if you believed they were many more arks out there, only that which God designed was the only salvation

GENESIS 6

- There was only 1 door to the ark & Jesus said I am the door, the only way, truth and life, no one comes to the father except through me) thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee. And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female. (All were after their kind example 1 pair of dogs and all the rest were mutated from what Noah brought in) Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive.

God put into the animals an instinct that brought them to the ark and to Adam.

It is interesting that they think some animals can predict earthquakes. They are watching the behaviour of animals and it seems that there is some kind of abnormal behaviour that appears in them before an earthquake.

The feeling is that maybe they can sense something that we can't sense. There are interesting things about the instinctive capacities of animals.

GEN 6: 21-22

And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them. Thus did Noah; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

Actually, Noah had to have enough food to feed all the animals and the eight people for about a year, but there was still plenty of room in the ark for all of it.
